Service Oriented Architecture

Our Offering

Our SOA Services are focused on helping organizations use existing IT applications as an asset to support IT for business value creation and realization as well as to achieve the needed SOA governance.

Businesses often drive some common SOA best practices and "adoption patterns" that we are seeing in the market:

- Greater efficiency and reduced costs:
 - Reduce overlapping IT applications
- Better alignment between Business and IT:
 - Implementing business service contracts
- Faster and easier to respond to change:
 - Reuse application and process functionality as a service

We can help CIO's and IT managers to transform their organization to a process and service oriented IT department which will provide value for the company and its business goals, by implementing a SOA governance and managing the processes and systems needed to integrate information, activities and value across the entire value chain.

By using our holistic SOA value approach consisting of a strategy to design through implementation and transformation, which encompasses people, process, information content and technology transformation, we can help organizations to align business value with IT strategy and operational imperatives. These will help organizations to get a cost-effective and flexible IT organization which will deliver growth potency, competitive advantage as well as operational efficiency to executives, managers and the different information consumers.

We know that we can and will deliver value and offer therefore also workshops in the following areas:

- BPM Proof of Concept
- BPM Maturity Healthcheck
- SOA Governance Approach
- SOA Maturity Healthcheck
- SAP Express Value Creation
- SAP Value Management
